PRESENTED BY

THE T.S.C. STUDENT BODY

IN MEMORIAM

Wesley Wilkening, student in the Electrical Engineering Department, drowned June 10 in Lake Donald near Vandalia, Michigan. Wes would have graduated with the June class of 1957. He was very active in school functions, serving as president of the Electrical Engineering Society and Sigma Phi Delta, a member of Skull and Bones, and a Student Director. Wes has left many friends and fine memories at Tri-State.

WE DEDICATE

We dedicate the 1957 Modulus to Mrs. Lucy Emerson, Director of News Service for Tri-State College.

Mrs. Emerson is best known to most students on the campus because of her work with the campus publications, the Tri-Angle and the Modulus. She is constantly being asked for advice or information in connection with these activities, and although she is an extremely busy member of the college staff, she is never too busy to provide the answers.

We, the members of the 1957 Modulus staff, are richer for having known and worked with her, and will always remember her when thinking back on our college days.

FOREWORD

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I, in behalf of the Modulus staff, present the 1957 edition of the MODULUS of Tri-State College. An effort has been made to introduce a new look incorporating fresh ideas in layout and styling both in the contents and the cover. It is our hope that this pictorial review of the year's activities will give you much pleasure now and in years to come.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those members of the staff without whom the publication of this year book would not have been a reality.

David E. Whitney

Editor-in-Chief

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASSES:

I welcome most eagerly this opportunity to express to each of you my personal congratulations as well as those of the Board of Trustees and the staff and faculty of the college upon the completion of your undergraduate studies. It should be, and I am confident it is, a matter of personal pride with each of you that you set a goal and reached it.

Even though many of you are entertaining the thought that you are now graduates and finished with the processes of education and learning, I would suggest that now you should busy yourselves with setting new and different goals. For some it will be graduate study and for others it will be gainful employment in business or industry. Whatever it may be and however it is to be achieved will always be affected by the industrious and intelligent application of what you have already learned here or elsewhere.

As time passes and you move steadily toward the realization of your new goal, pause occasionally to set new and higher ones. In so doing you will render your greatest service to mankind and bring to reality our wish for success and happiness for each of you for all time.

WHAT IS AN ENGINEER???

An engineer is a person totally dedicated to applied science, production, and his wife—in that order. Like the poet, his primary concerns are those of time and meter. His terminology may and usually does include such prosaic words as modulator, Kovar, voltage, oscillation, and some words not found in the dictionary.

Engineers come in assorted kinds and sizes. First, we have the young bow-tied type (just graduated from Midwestern, magna cum lousy) who believes with all his heart that there should be more unison and less formality between himself, other engineers, and secretaries. Our second type of engineer is a kind of choleric mastermind (generally middle-aged) whose only goal in life is visualized in terms of steel, symmetry, and swiftness. And, of course, there is the soft-spoken, gentle kind whose years of experience have made him the real, but humble, genius.

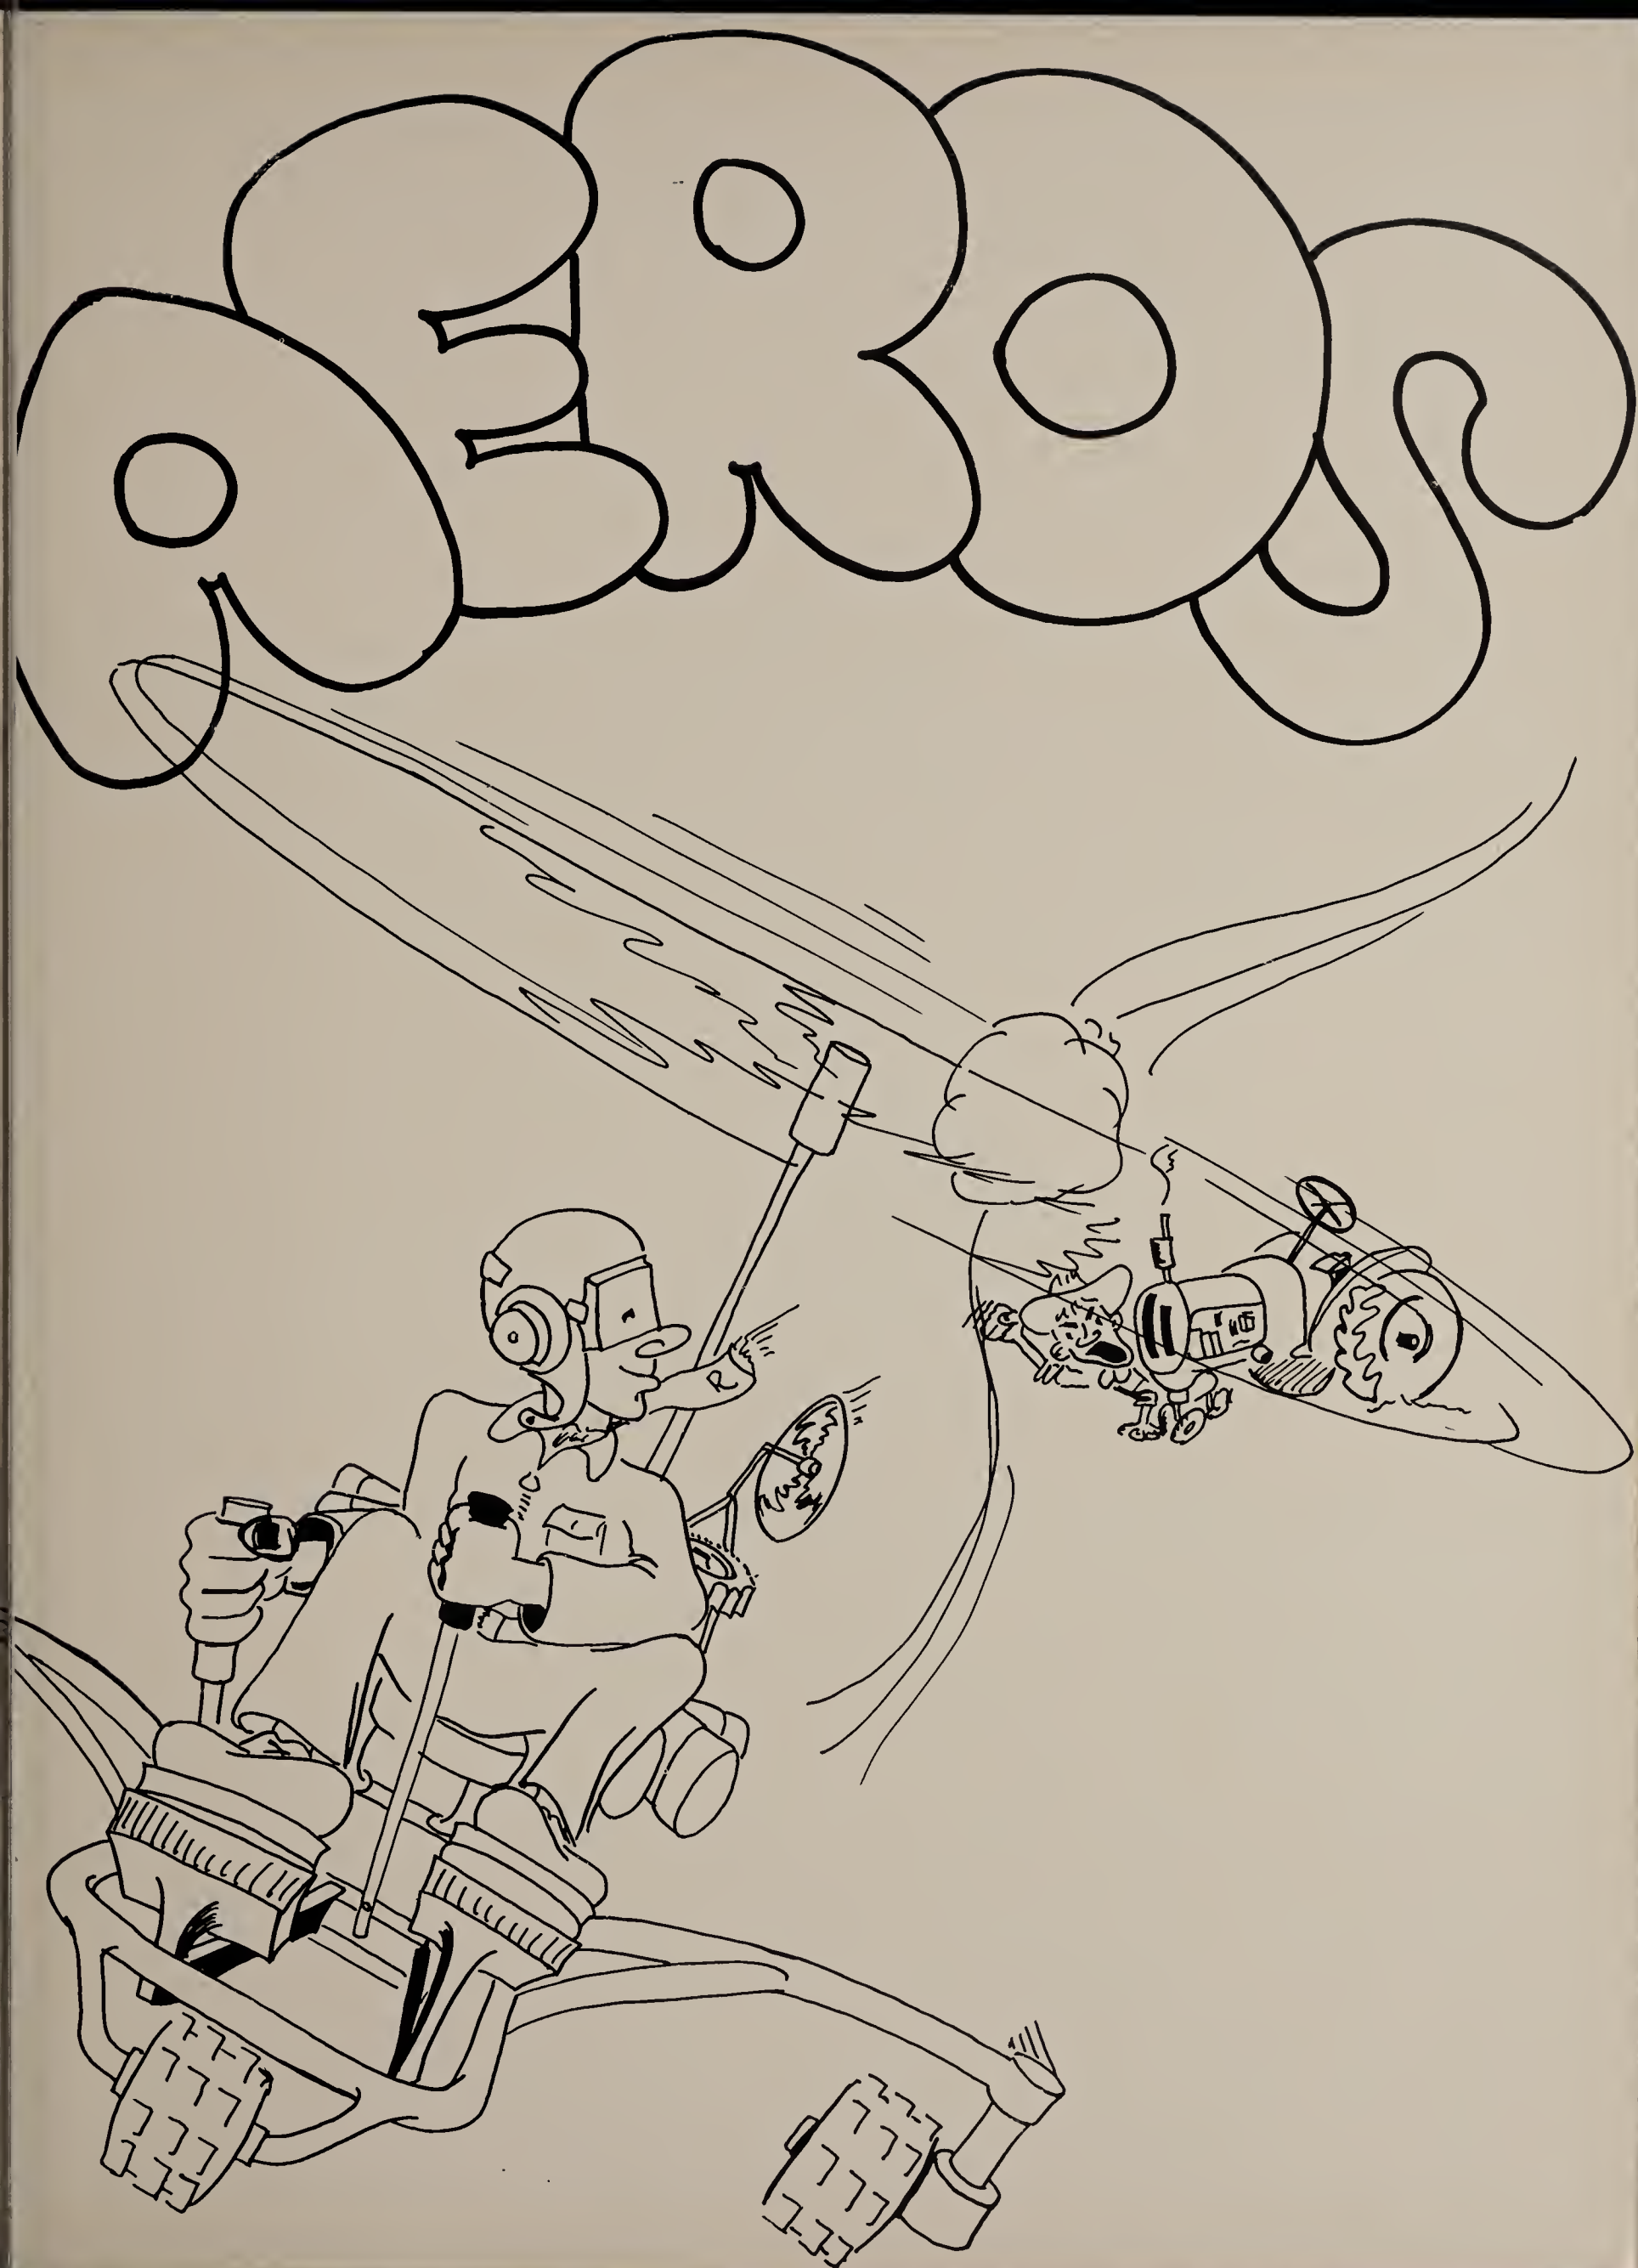

Engineers are usually found leaning toward an assembly line, discussing electrons near a water cooler, or north of their incoming baskets—stooped over in an attempt to find that last paper clip.

An engineer's morphology is such that he can (to the dismay of his secretary) overlook the most obvious notations and forget the most important meetings. No other phenomenon on earth can equal his capacities to be deaf to the loudest page system, take the longest time to walk from the adjoining office to his own, write the hieroglyphic memos (rough draft, please), tolerate the most cluttered up drawers, drink the most coffee, dictate the longest letters, and request the most prints for Services.

Certainly no other form of animal life could manage to train a 47 by 32-inch desk to hold a thermos of coffee, a calendar pad, an incoming and out-going basket, two rulers, a spotted blotter, an inkwell (sans plume), a nameplate at half-mast, four Spec. books (to be returned at 5:15), an ash tray, somewhere a telephone, assorted parts from distorted tubes, a cartoon from some other frustrated engineer, and a handbook, text book, and pocket book on "Transcendental Functions, Industrial Organization, and Girls."

His object is precision; his product is progress; his imagination is his only tool. He is a rationalist with a dream of what could be.

The human in him is evidenced by his casual hello in the hall and his unusual thoughtfulness when you need such. And when you're all but exhausted from tabulated reports, letters, and efforts to page him, the world seems just a little nicer when he says, "How's the boy friend?"

TAU SIGMA ETA

Tau Sigma Eta, honorary engineering society, was incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana on April 10, 1950. Membership in this society is one of the rewards received by students for outstanding achievements in the School of Engineering.

Requirements for eligibility into the society are four quarters of college work with a minimum of twenty hours work each quarter; a scholastic average of 2.1 out of a possible 3.0; and not more than five grades of C or C-plus. A 3.0 average for three consecutive quarters also qualifies for membership. A grade of D or lower automatically disqualifies a student for membership. Students meeting these requirements may be elected by the members of the society. Members of the society must maintain a 2.0 average to be considered active.

Tau Sigma Eta encourages brotherhood and good fellowship, a well balanced social program, and the maintenance of high scholastic records. The used book sale at the beginning and end of each quarter is one of the organization's functions. A banquet is held at the end of each quarter as a climax to the quarter's activities and aids in encouraging and fostering the ideals of the society.

ALPHA BETA ALPHA

Alpha Beta Alpha, the honorary society, was founded in September 1938. The Society was originated to recognize outstanding scholarship among the students in the School of Commerce. The objectives of the Society are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote leadership, and to develop charactership.

Under the guidance of its advisors, the Society encourages the present and future members to maintain a high scholastic standing. To be eligible for membership, a student must maintain an average grade of "A" for three successive terms or an average grade of "B" for four successive terms with no more than one grade of "C". Those who, through a combination of ability and earnest effort, become members, deem it a worthy honor as is evidenced by the active support and interest taken in the Society by alumni members.

The high ideals set by Alpha Beta Alpha as a standard could well serve as a goal for all students in the School of Commerce.

TRI-STATE STUDENT DIRECTORS

The Tri-State Student Directors, one of several honorary groups, was organized and functions as a service unit, with the membership representative of all phases of campus life. Selection is based on leadership, dependability, cooperation and an evident desire to promote the welfare of the college. Included among its activities are Orientation, Registration, Baccalaureate and Commencement, Alumni Homecoming and the Christmas party for Tri-State children.

Santa Claus (Director Ralph Christiansen) pays his annual visit to the campus.

The Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences (I.A.S.) is an internationally known professional organization of aeronautical engineers and scientists. In addition to its many activities among graduate engineers, it sponsors Student Branches in seventy-four colleges, including Tri-State College.

The purpose of the I.A.S. Student Branch is to help the aeronautical student develop an understanding and pride in his chosen profession. This purpose is accomplished through the dissemination of technical and historical information — via movies, speakers from industry, and scientific journals, through social activities such as banquets and Branch projects, and through awards to outstanding members.

The Branch's red flying saucer, representing the reincarnated life of two Coca-Cola signs, is a familiar sight on campus heralding the biweekly meetings.

Professor Hawthorne was faculty advisor of the Branch for many years. The duties of faculty advisor have recently been taken over by Professor Libove.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The chemical society was formed to enable chemical engineering students to become better acquainted, to assist them in becoming cognizant of the intellectual stimulation that arises from professional association, to foster a professional spirit among members, and to instill pride in chemistry and chemical engineering.

These objectives are attained by presenting selected motion pictures and guest speakers from the various phases of industry. They are furthered by field trips in the spring and summer quarters and by being a student affiliate of the American Chemical Society.

THE ENGINEERS CREED

I am a Civil Engineer. In my profession I take deep pride, but without vain glory; to it I owe solemn obligations that I am eager to fulfill.

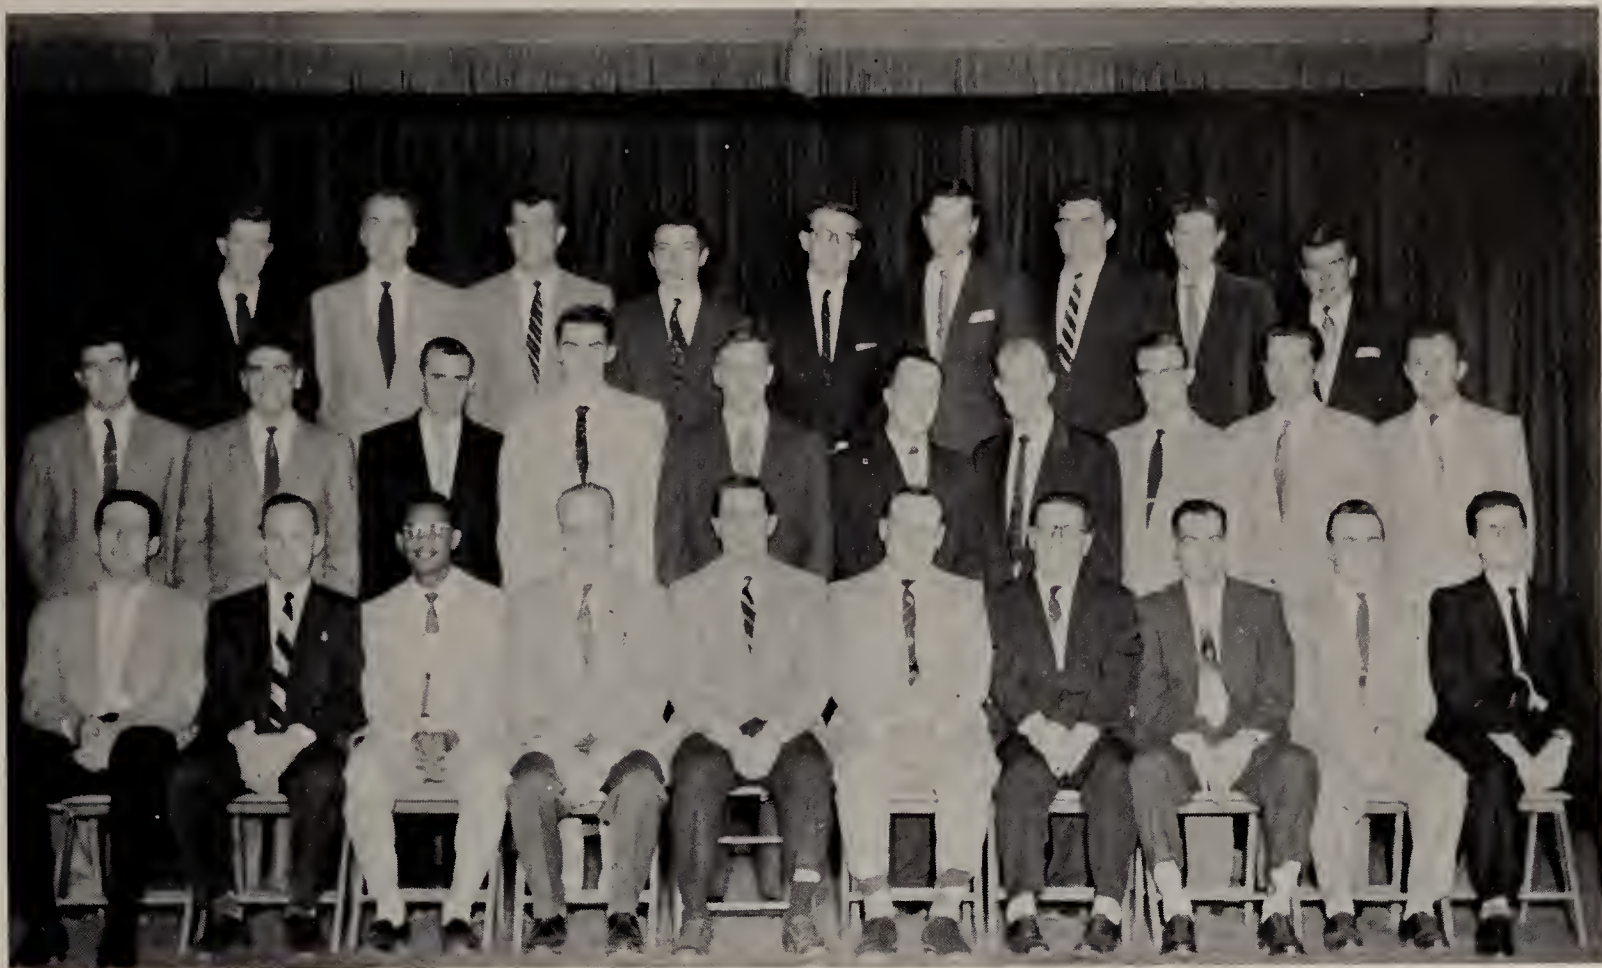

As an engineer, I will participate in none but honest enterprise. To him that has engaged my services, as employer or client, I will give the utmost of service and fidelity.

When needed, my skill and knowledge shall be given without reservation for the public good. From special capacity springs the obligation to use it well in the service of humanity, and I accept the challenge that this implies.

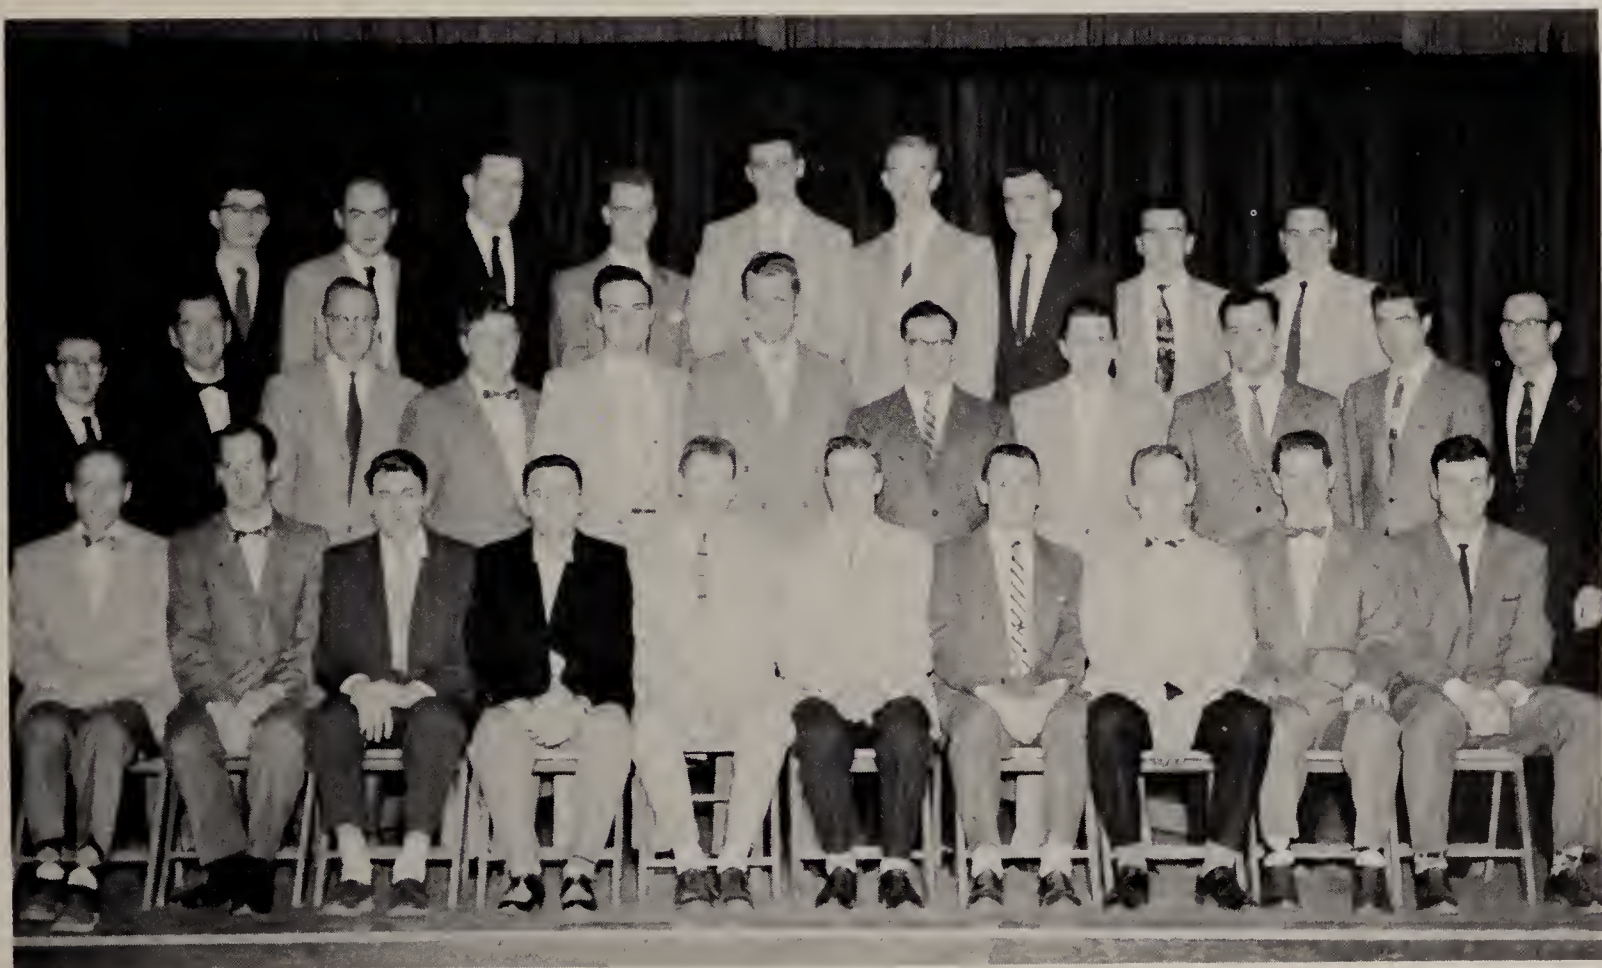

Jealous of the high repute of my calling, I will strive to protect the interest and the good name of any Civil Engineer that I know to be deserving; but I will not shrink, should duty dictate, from disclosing the truth regarding anyone that, by unscrupulous act, has shown himself unworthy of the profession.

Since the age of stone, human progress has been conditioned by my forebearers. By them have been rendered usable to mankind, nature's vast resources of material and energy. By them have been vitalized and turned to practical account, the principles of science and the revelations of technology. Except for this heritage of accumulated experience my efforts would be feeble. I dedicate myself to the younger members of my profession in all its arts and traditions.

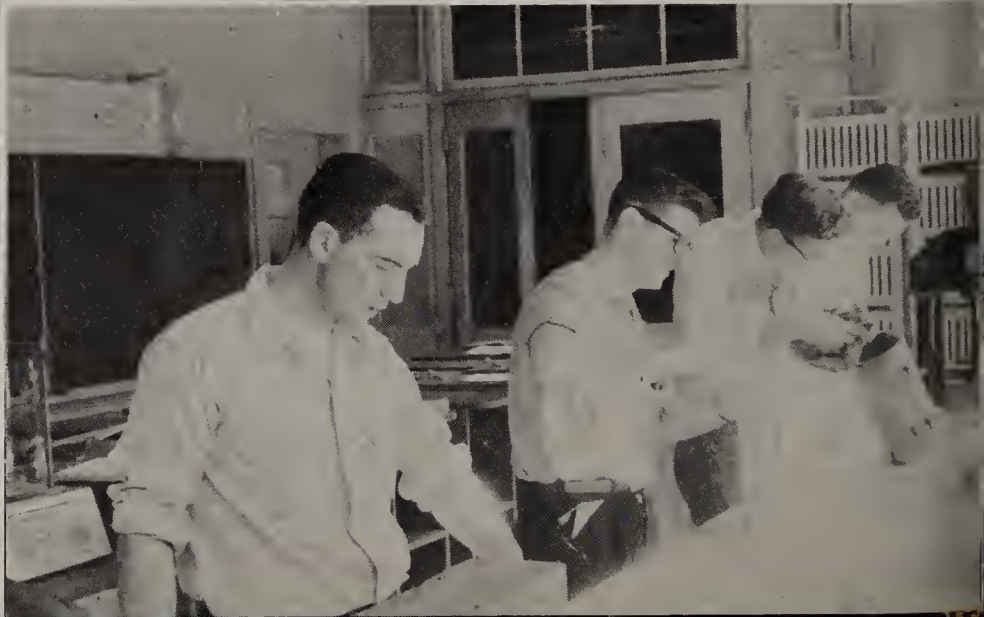

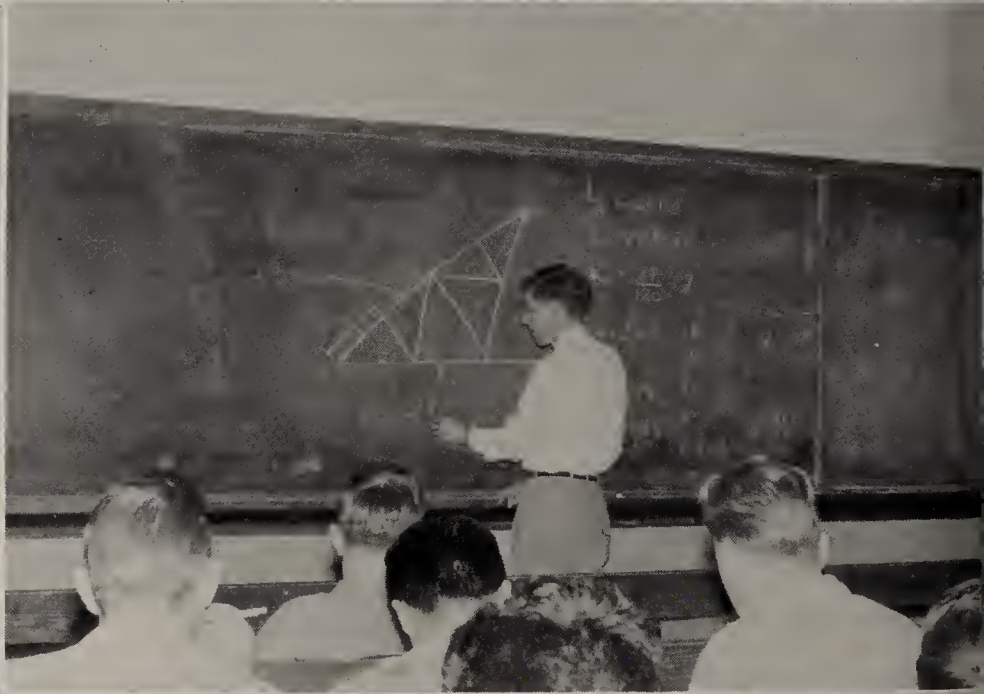

To my fellows I pledge, in the same full manner I ask of them, integrity and fair dealing, tolerance and respect; devotion to the standards and the dignity of our profession; with the consciousness, always, that our special expertness carries with it the obligation to serve humanity with complete sincerity.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The Electrical Engineering Society was formed on October 16, 1934. In the fall of 1942, the Electrical Engineering Society merged with the Radio Engineering Society to form the Radio-Electrical Society. At a special meeting on January 9, 1947, it was decided to reactivate the Electrical Engineering Society and since then it has been an independent organization.

The fundamental purpose of the society is to benefit and aid the students of the Electrical Engineering Department. This is accomplished by presenting speakers, who are leaders in the electrical industry, and through the medium of motion pictures and demonstrations. This aim is furthered by a field trip in the spring which enables the members to see the practical applications of the theories they have studied.

The Electrical Engineering Society extends to all of its graduating members best wishes for success in their chosen field, and hope that the experiences gained from the society will help them throughout life.

The Radio Engineering Society was organized in October, 1936 for the purpose of enabling any student attending Tri-State College interested in electronics and its associated fields to gain useful knowledge outside of his regular scholastic activities.

The Society serves its membership by the presentation, at its meetings, of leaders in various commercial, industrial, and academic organizations.

These speakers inform the undergraduate student of the latest developments within this field by the demonstration of equipment, showing of slides or films, and educational talks.

Any student interested in the field of electronics may join the Radio Engineering Society.

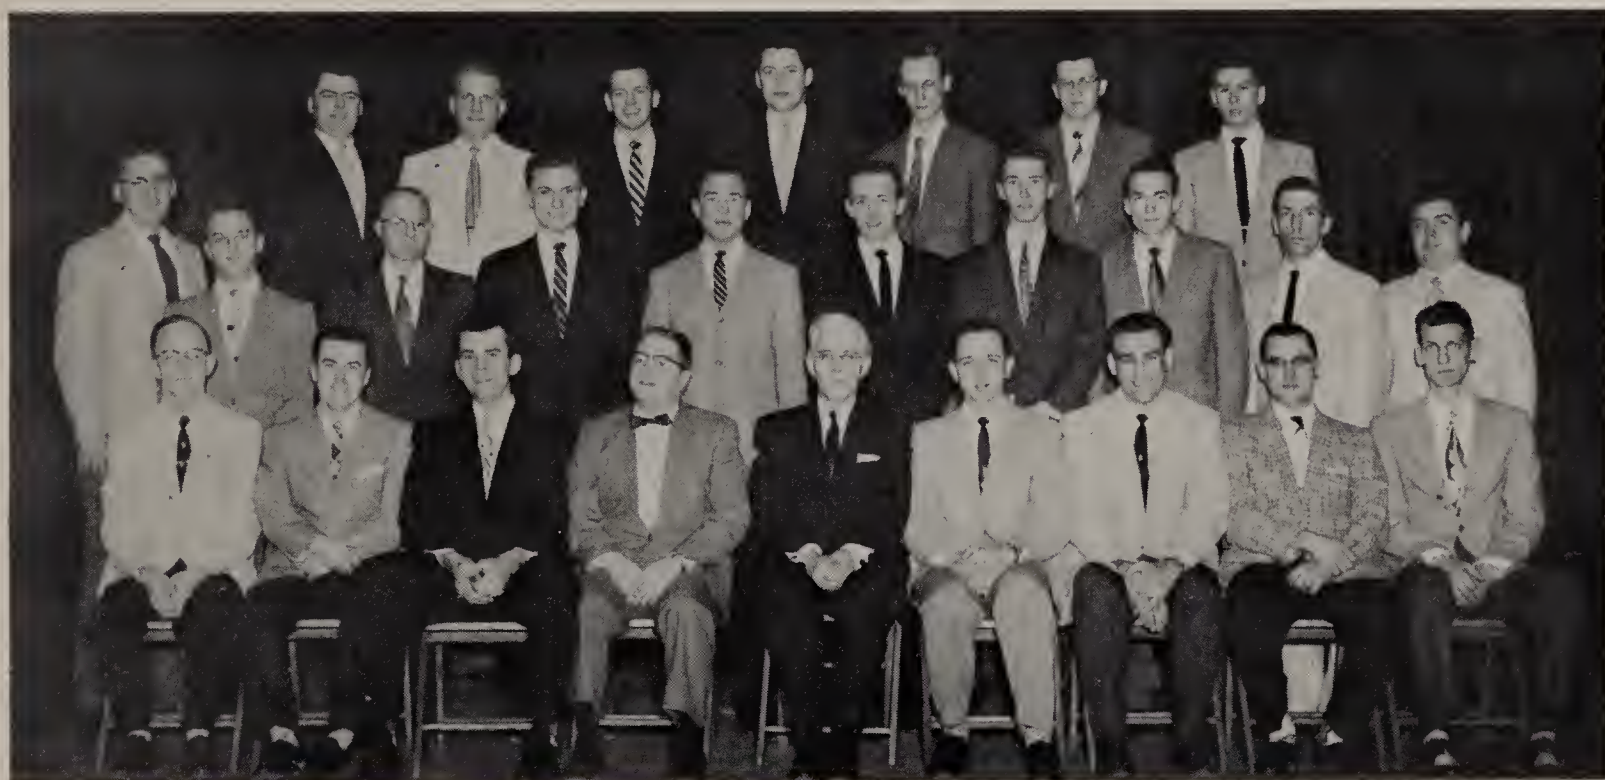

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF TOOL ENGINEERS

Tri-State Student Branch of Fort Wayne Chapter Number 56

The American Society of Tool Engineers is concerned with the vast number of diversified problems encountered in most forms of industrial production. Typical of problems solved by ASTE engineers are conveyors and fixtures for industrial plants, methods of manufacturing heat dissipators for refrigeration units, and mechanical means of power transfer.

The Tri-State College Chapter of the ASTE, although a relative new-comer, has already gained a large membership of students. Through affiliation with the National Chapter at Fort Wayne, student officers represent Tri-State College at regular meetings of the Fort Wayne Chapter.

Activities include regularly scheduled meetings, and participation in field trips to industrial sites.

SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

The purpose of the Society of Automotive Engineers is "To promote the arts and sciences and engineering practices connected with the design, construction, and utilization of the automotive apparatus."

In order to better understand and achieve this creed, the SAE chapter at Tri-State College engages in many activities directly related to automotive engineering. Meetings, which are held every first and third Wednesday of the month, consist not only of business, but also utilize informative movies and well-qualified speakers from industry. In addition, numerous field trips to industrial plants affords members a first-hand knowledge of processes and problems with which they must deal in their future profession.

The large membership of more than one hundred students attests to an enthusiastic acceptance of the ideals of the SAE by the future engineers of Tri-State College.

As an organization, the Booster Club of Tri-State College is relatively new but the members feel that the accomplishments compare favorably with those of other organizations.

The purpose of the Booster Club is: to build school spirit, to promote good sportsmanship at all inter-collegiate activities, to aid and to promote all intramural activities on the campus and to aid all movements for the betterment of Tri-State College.

Membership in the club is open to all students, faculty members, townsmen or anyone interested in the development of sports at Tri-State College.

Notable among the accomplishments of the club are: The Tournament Night that was held in the recreation hall during the Winter term, the Float Parade that is held preceding the first home game of the basketball season, the splendid work of the Cheerleaders, the selling of tickets and the distribution of programs, the annual "Beat Tech Bus" which carries rooters to Indiana Tech where they try to help the team bring the "Bulging Boiler" back, and the sponsorship of the term dances.

The club has strength in its members but there are openings for more. Will you join us? We hope so, you can help us to help the college.

The Tri-State Chapter, Angala Junior Chamber of Commerce, was organized during the winter quarter 1954, and as such was the first program of its kind on any college campus in the United States.

Our main purpose is training young men for leadership. This program concerns civic improvements, both on and off the campus.

The Jaycee has a definite purpose expressed in his creed.

We believe:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

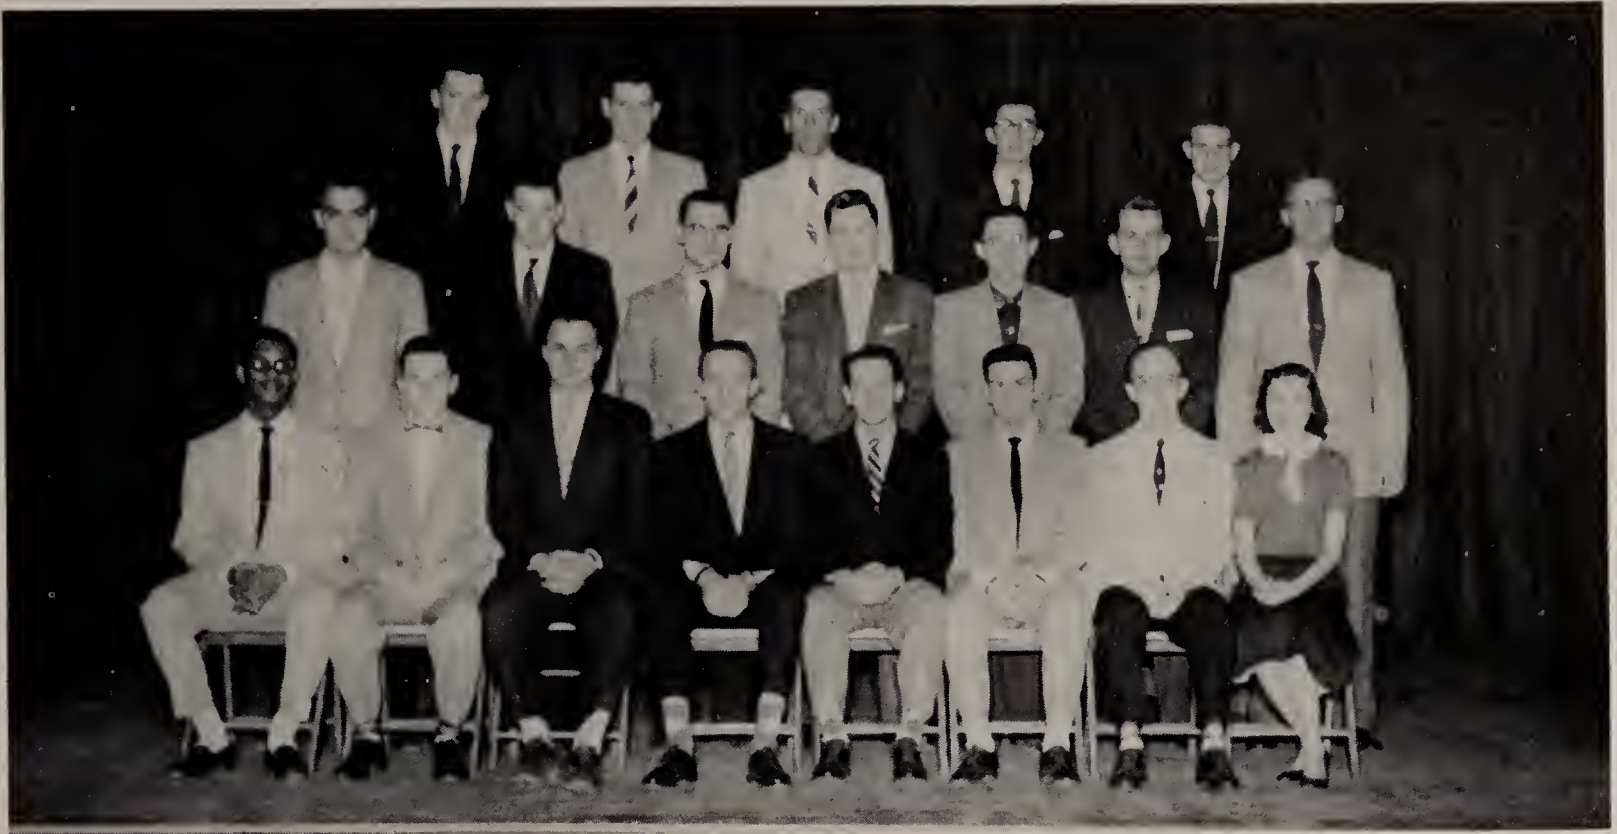

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

That government should be of laws rather than of men;

That the earth's great treasure lies in human personality;

And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

Photography has become one of the most influential forces in modern civilization and has found a prominent place in every field of human endeavor. Moreover, it has become the world's most popular hobby, bringing a means of self-expression to millions of people everywhere. There are only a few things which truly create a common interest and which help to bring people together in a friendly and peaceful way—photography is one of them.

The Photo Society was organized to enable students to share this common interest in photography and to provide a campus publications with photographs of college activities. Besides being invaluable in this respect, the society provides a pleasant and useful pastime for its members, and gives them access to excellent equipment supplies, and facilities.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

"The Essence of Unity is Brotherhood." The International Students Association was organized during the school year 1949-1950. Our aims are to aid the plan of world peace by promoting a mutual understanding among students from all countries. The association has presented discussion programs, travelogue movies, and concerts to the community.

No barriers of language or customs have retarded our progress, because we believe the words of Socrates "I am a citizen, not of Athens, nor of Greece, but of the world."

TRI-STATE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Tri-State Christian Fellowship is a chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, a national organization belonging to the International Fellowship of Evangelical students. The IVCF Chapter at Tri-State, one of nearly 500 such interdenominational and evangelical groups in the United States and Canada, was formed to provide fellowship in Christian living through prayer, Bible study, and social activities.

Meetings are held weekly, at which Bible study, a speaker, or a film compose the program. Also, week-end conferences are held each spring and fall at Lake Wawasee, near Syracuse, Indiana. At these conferences, Inter-Varsity chapters from Indiana colleges and universities meet to enjoy Christian fellowship, Bible study, and recreation together.

Tri-State Christian Fellowship is student governed and all students are invited to join in the activities.

THE EX LIBRIS CLUB

In the fall of 1955 a small group of students, realizing the need for broadening their own intellectual horizons in a world of specialization, organized a club for the purpose of reading and exchanging ideas about significant novels and short stories. Since this beginning the members of the Ex Libris Club, as the organization came to be called, have met bi-weekly and in their discussions have wandered freely among such widely diverse authors as Zola, Tolstoy, Dickens, Poe, Conrad, Huxley, Orwell, Marquand, and Hemmingway. The discussions are of an informal character and anyone on the campus wishing to participate is most cordially invited to do so.

TRI-STATE COLLEGE AMATEUR RADIO "HAM CLUB"

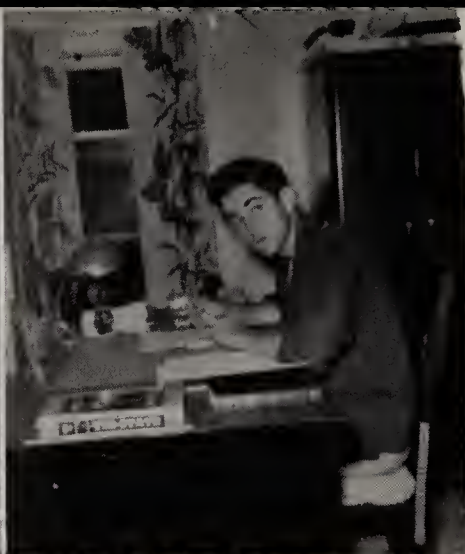

The principal purpose of the amateur radio club is to provide a means for the radio enthusiasts, here at Tri-State, to continue with their amateur radio activities.

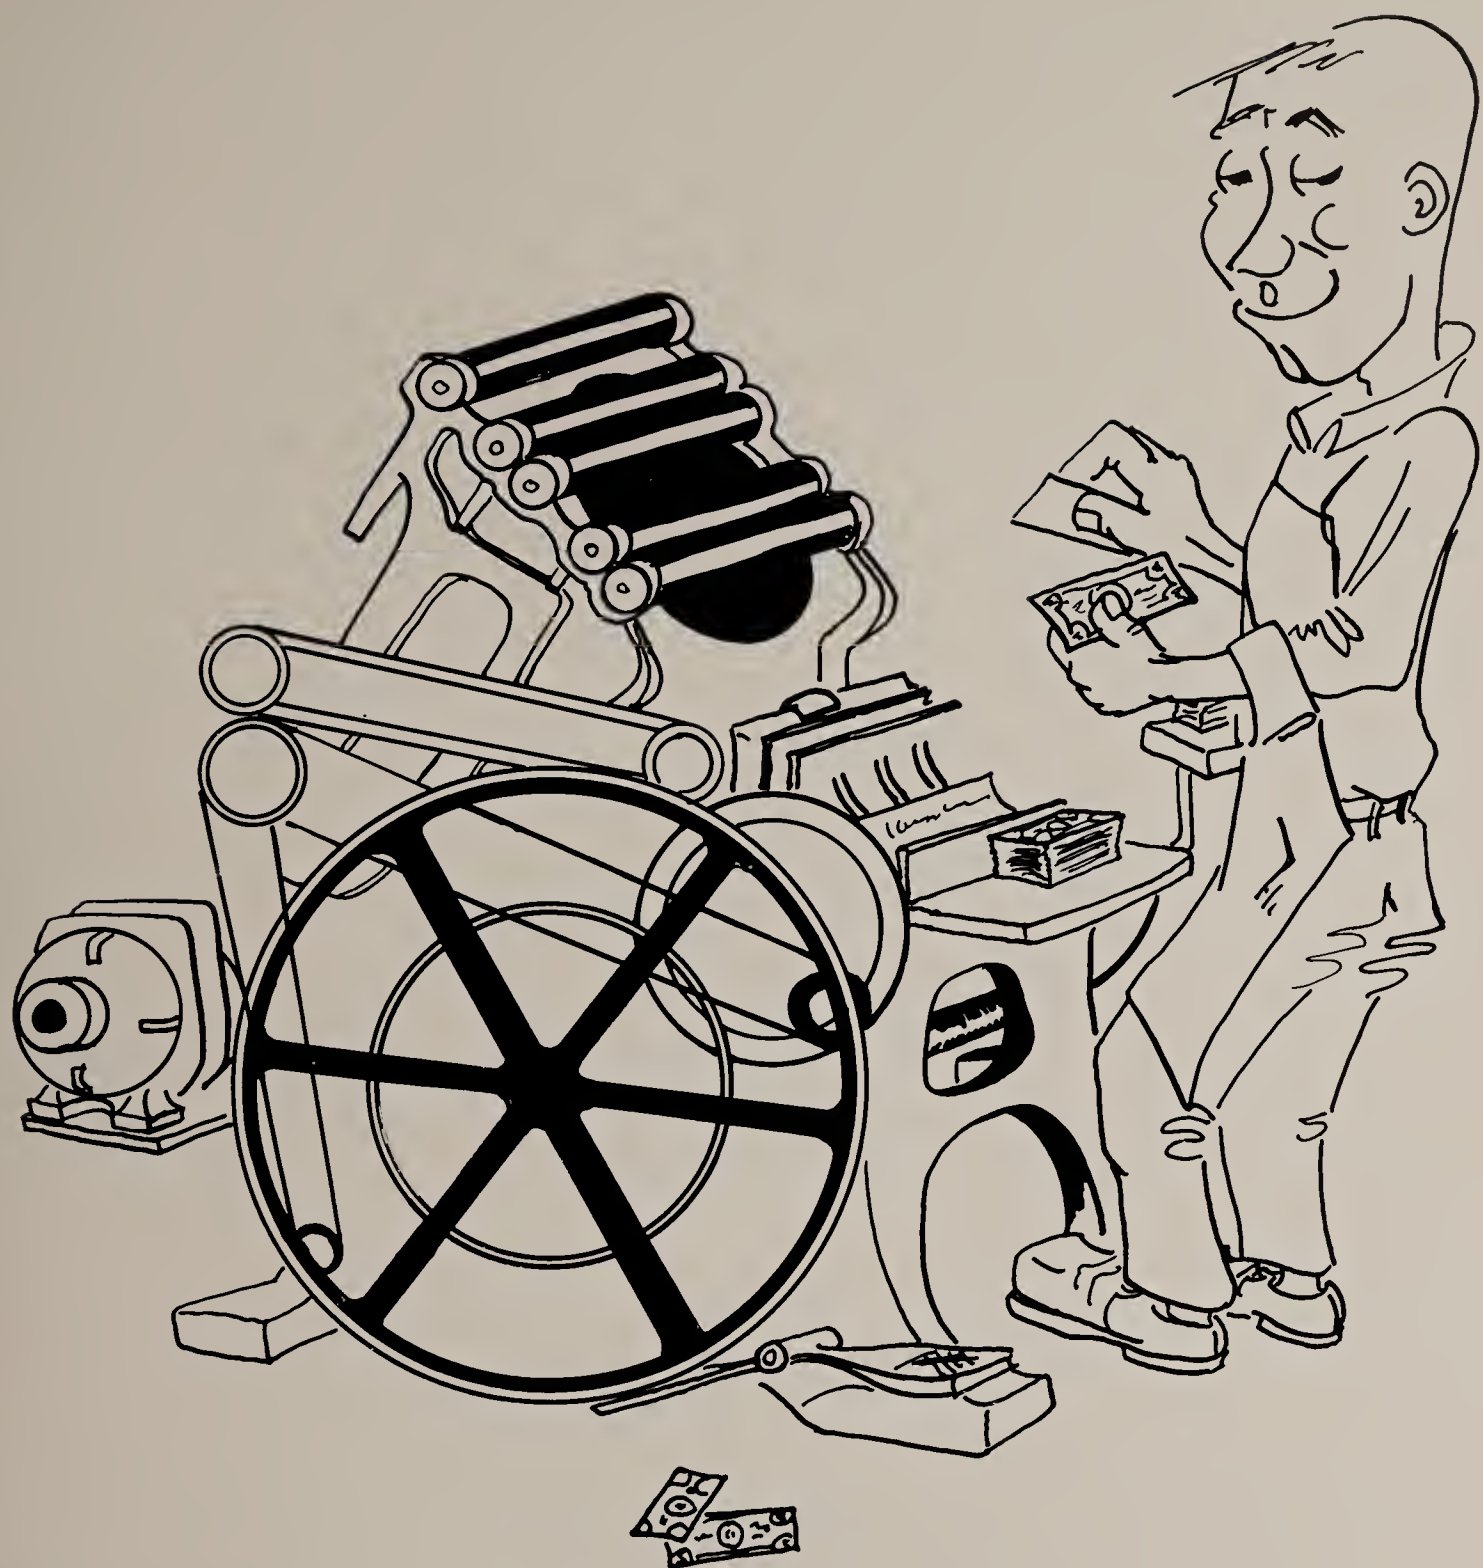

As you may well know, the chief delight of an amateur is to get on the air and converse with other amateurs, whether it be with one of his friends at home or one of his radio friends across the country. This is accomplished through the operation of our broadcast quality amateur radio station, W9PMZ. Some of our other activities include experimenting with various antenna systems and home built equipment.

We welcome all properly licensed radio amateurs to join us and share our facilities.

TRI-STATE COLLEGE MATHEMATICAL SOCIETY

The mathematics society was organized by the students and is financed by the mathematics department. Its purpose is to demonstrate how mathematics is applied to the solution of problems of industry and science. Membership is open to all interested persons, students and faculty members. Talks are given during each meeting by a member or a guest speaker on the practical use of the principles of the various branches of mathematics. Awards are given to members for presenting talks and seventy-five percent attendance.

"MARRY NOT AN ENGINEER"

Verily I say unto you, "Marry not an engineer," for an engineer is a strange being and is possessed of many evils.

Yea, he speaketh eternally in parables which he calleth formulae and he hath but one Bible, a handbook.

He thinketh only in terms of stresses and strains and without end of Thermodynamics.

He showeth always a serious aspect and seemeth not to know how to smile.

He picketh his seat in a car by the springs therein and not by the damsel thereby.

Neither does he know a waterfall except by its horsepower, nor a sunset except by its candlepower, nor a damsel except by her live weight.

Always he carrieth his books with him and he entertaineth his sweetheart with steam tables.

He carrieth continually with him a strangely calibrated stick which he calleth a slide rule and which he consulteth continually.

Verily, though his sweetheart expecteth chocolates when he calleth, she openeth the box but to discover samples of iron ore.

Yea, he holdeth the hand of his damsel but to discover the friction thereof and he kisseth her but to test the viscosity of her lips.

For there is a light in his eyes that is neither love nor longing but rather a vain attempt to recall some forgotten formula.

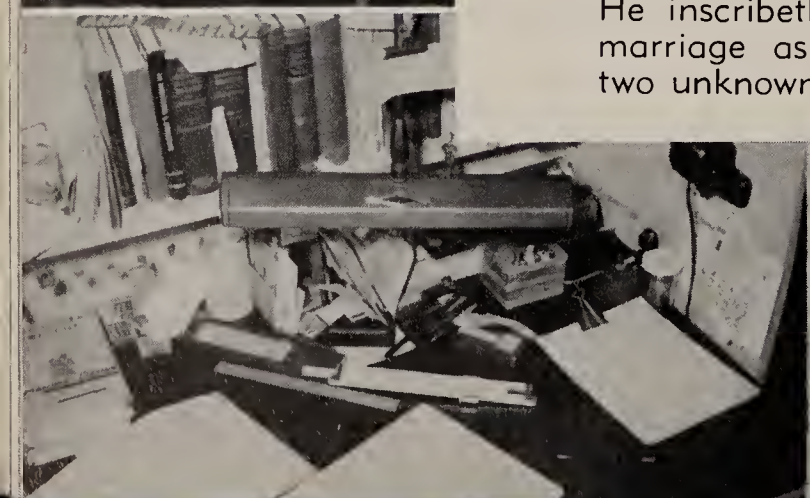

There is but one key to his heart and that is Tau Sigma Eta, but one love letter for which he longeth and that is Pi.

When his damsel writeth of love and signeth with crosses, he taketh these symbols not for kisses but rather for unknown quantities.

Even as a boy he pulleth a damsel's hair but to test the elasticity thereof but as a man he discovereth different devices.

For he counteth the vibrations of her heart strings and seeketh ever to pursue his scientific investigations, even his heart flutterings she counteth as a calibration of beauty.

He inscribeth his passion as a formula and his marriage as a simultaneous equation involving two unknowns and yielding diverse results.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

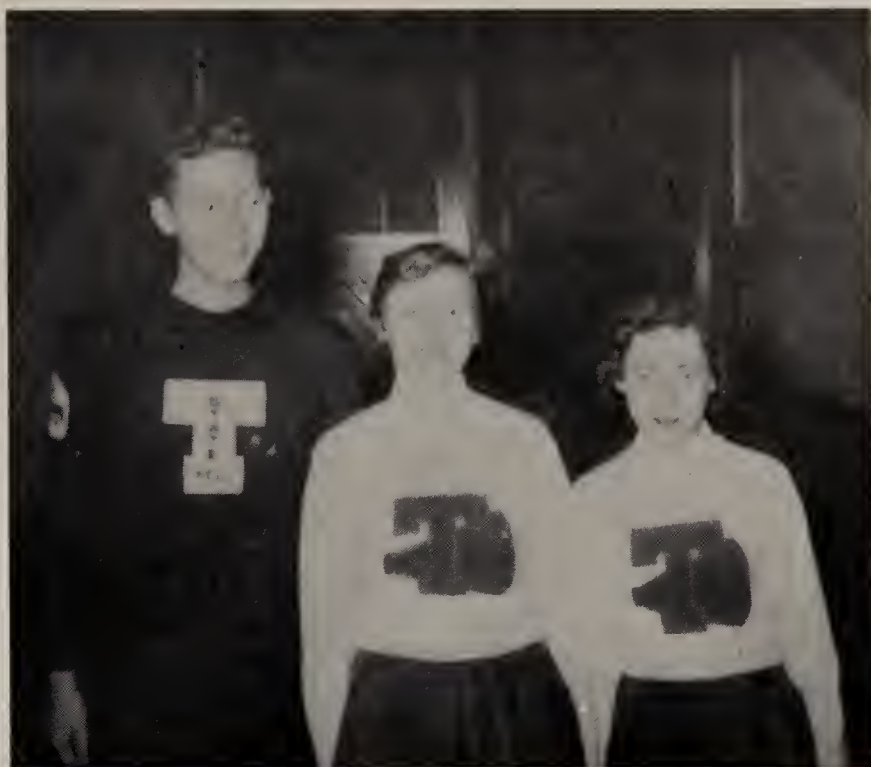

"Doc" Mummert

B. J. "Doc" Mummert has served as Director of Athletics at Tri-State College since 1950, his duties include the direction of sports programs and coaching of some of the teams. He came to Tri-State from Nappanee where he served as coach for three years. Doc is also an Associate Professor in the department of Commerce.

BULGING BOILER

The Bulging Boiler is the symbol of basketball rivalry between Indiana Tech and Tri-State. The trophy has been in competition since 1949. Tri-State has had possession of it four times during the eight years of its existence. The boiler remained in Fort Wayne this year after we lost a hard fought game in the closing minutes, 77-70.

The 1956-57 edition of the Tri-State "Engineers" finished their season with five wins and fourteen losses against some of the better teams in this area. The two most thrilling games of this season was the 101 to 86 win over Benton Harbor, Michigan, and the one-point win over a strong Detroit Tech team. The other three teams that went down in defeat were Giffin, Assumption, and Concordia colleges.

Don Blair, a junior, was the spark plug of the team with a two-hand jump shot that gave him an average of 18.5 points per game. Brad Webb had the second highest average with 14.6 points per game and Dick Lough was third with 11.4 points per game.

All members of the team showed plenty of fighting spirit, even though they couldn't win them all for their alma mater.

Our baseball team compiled a 2-3 record for the 1957 season. In the opening game we battered Indiana Tech by the score of 25-19. Heavy hitting and weak pitching were the main features of this game.

The second and third games were against Defiance College. We were unable to win one of these games but our pitching began to reach pre-season expectations.

Our last games of the season were a two-night double-header at Huntington College. Brilliant pitching by Ray Fraser lead us to our second victory in the opener. We dropped the nightcap and thus ended our season.

Tri-State's tennis team, coached by Al McDowell of the Chemical Department, playing against the weatherman and some of the top schools in this area including Western Michigan, Indiana Tech, and North Manchester have done very well this season even though the first two matches were cancelled because of the weather.

The team has three returning members consisting of Willie Taylor, Lloyd Henderson, and Charles Thomas. The four new members are Bill Zack, Fred Knupp, Bob Butler and Jerry Richards.

The Tri-State linksters won three of eight matches on their intercollegiate schedule this spring. Two wins were posted over Indiana Technical College and one over Albion College. Losses were to Notre Dame University, Kala-

This was the toughest schedule that a Tri-State golf squad has ever engaged in and all the team members played very well against all opposition.

Lombdo Chapter of Alpha Gamma Upsilon came into being May 8, 1949, when the members of Delta Epsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Chi, a leading fraternity on the campus since the fall of 1927, decided that affiliation with a rapidly-growing national collegiate fraternity would give its members and alumni greater prestige and popularity. The growth of the chapter as well as that of the national organization has proved the soundness of the decision made by the chapter members.

In addition to a well-rounded social calendar climaxed by our national convention in the spring of each year, Alpha Gamma Upsilon observes two special days. Founders' Day is celebrated each year on October 10 to commemorate the founding of our fraternity on that date in 1922 and to honor our founders. Omega Day is observed each year on the Sunday nearest to February 1, and is dedicated to the memory of our brothers who have passed away.

The keynote of the aims of Alpha Gamma Upsilon is brotherhood. We believe that only by applying this basic principle of Christianity can the members of a fraternity live and work together in harmony and build lasting friendships. To become a true fraternity man is the goal each member is constantly striving to reach. By selecting as members only those whom we believe possess the qualities essential for becoming such fraternity men, we hope to secure even greater success for Alpha Gamma Upsilon in the coming years.

Alpha Sigma Phi was founded at Yale University in 1845 and is the tenth oldest national social fraternity. It is one of the larger fraternities and is a charter member of the National Interfraternity Conference.

The Beta Omicron Chapter dates back to 1925 when it was known as the Phi Lambda Tau Fraternity. Four years later, Phi Lambda Tau merged with Alpha Delta Alpha, a national fraternity. In 1935, Alpha Delta Alpha disbanded but through the efforts of its local members, a chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi, another national fraternity, was obtained. Eleven years of prosperity passed before Alpha Kappa Pi decided to merge with another great fraternity to form Alpha Sigma Phi.

On September 6, 1956, the local chapter became the Beta Omicron Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

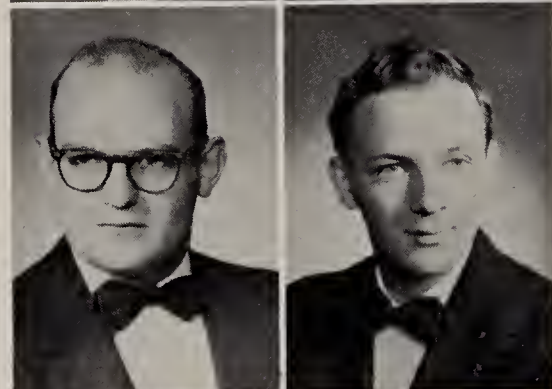

Alpha Sigma Phi stands for charity, culture, loyalty, and perpetual friendship. Its members face a future made brighter by the flame of the personal relationships kindled in the walls of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Beta Phi Theta was founded at the Milwaukee State Teachers College in November, 1917. The first social fraternity at the College, it flourished purely as a social organization in its first few years. In 1932, plans were made for expansion, and when the first national convention was held in June, 1942, three chapters responded to the roll call. Since that time, other strong local fraternities from other institutions have become affiliated with Beta Phi Theta.

The history of Delta Chapter, the Tri-State College Chapter of Beta Phi Theta, dates back to 1922, when a group of young men banded together as "The Four-Eleven Gang," their sole purpose being the promotion of good fellowship. So successful was the organization that it was decided to expand to afford other students the opportunity of enjoying this relationship. At this time, Lambda Phi Epsilon was formed. The membership of this fraternity grew, and recognizing one of the great needs of the college students, opened the first fraternity house at Tri-State College in 1925. Four years later, when the college recognized fraternities, the members of Lambda Phi Epsilon realized the advantage of national membership and became the Delta Chapter of Beta Phi Theta. Delta chapter now in its twenty-eighth year at Tri-State, has never lost sight of the ideals of its founders. Those chosen for brotherhood are men with courage, initiative and fortitude. This policy of selection has insured lasting life and leadership for the fraternity and has made Beta Phi Theta one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. Scholastically, morally, physically, and socially, the members of Delta Chapter are pledged to contribute their best, and will in the future, be more than proud to share the progress of the college, the fraternal body, and their fellow students.

BETA SIGMA TAU

Equality, Understanding, Unity

Beta Sigma Tau was founded in May, 1948, at Chicago. The first convention consisted of seventy-five delegates from eleven colleges. At this convention a constitution based on equality, unity, and understanding was adopted.

The Tri-State chapter of Beta Sigma Tau had its beginning on October 13, 1950, when Theta Mu Phi fraternity, founded at Tri-State in 1938, affiliated with the national organization of Beta Sigma Tau.

Beta Sigma Tau is unique among fraternal organizations, its membership is not restricted because of race, creed or religion. The organization maintains that prejudice is based on ignorance, and hence undesirable on a college level.

Indiana Gamma Chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa, international social fraternity, took its place among the campus fraternities on March 17, 1952. While new in name, the fraternity has proved its worth as one of the older organizations on the campus.

Kappa Sigma Kappa was founded at Virginia Military Institute in 1867. For many years following the Civil War, new chapters were installed, mainly in southern colleges, but since 1935, a chapter has been installed in nearly every state, as well as in several foreign countries.

Today, Kappa Sigma Kappa has more than sixty active chapters.

ALPHA GAMMA COLONY

Alpha Gamma Colony of Phi Kappa, at Tri-State College, is the result of earnest efforts on the part of the members of the organization once known as Alpha Gamma Omega. In May, 1943, a charter was sought from Phi Kappa National Catholic Fraternity, and on January 24, 1944, the Alpha Gamma Omega fraternity became the twenty-seventh chapter of Phi Kappa fraternity.

Among the many achievements of the chapter in Phi Kappa have been endeavors to maintain the high scholastic standards set by predecessors, as well as participation in all interfraternity activities. The main purpose of the group of the Tri-State campus is to aid each member in bettering his efforts in learning; the development of a sense of responsibility and loyalty; the instilling of a fervent desire to contemplate creatively and to act constructively for the advancement of the organization in spiritual, academic and social matters.

Phi Kappa is proud of its accomplishments, and the members ar confident their ideals of fraternalism and religion will carry them to ultimate success in their undertakings.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council is the fraternity man's Congress, serving to unite the mutual interests of member fraternities and to promote better and closer relationships within the faculty, student body, and fraternities.

Two representatives from each fraternity recognized by the college are authorized to attend meetings each week to plan and direct fraternity activities on the campus. Operating with the full cooperation of the faculty, the council plans social and athletic activities for the student body. Fraternity representatives, acting with the guidance and on suggestions of their fraternities, exercise initiative and leadership in supervising the affairs of the council.

The Inter-Fraternity Council has grown to be one of the most effective organizations on the campus, through the action of well-qualified fraternity representatives.

The Union of Square and Compass with Sigma Mu Sigma was consummated in Angola, Indiana, on August 3rd, 1952. The fraternity now has nine active chapters throughout the country.

Brothers of Sigma Mu Sigma are proud of its history and achievements in the scholastic and social phases, and are continually striving to surpass the goals set by previous memberships. The fraternity's earnest desire is to develop men capable of taking their places in the world with confidence in their ability to meet and associate with other men. SIGMA SU'S

The Sigma Su's Club is made up of wives of members of Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity. The purpose of the Sigma Su's is to promote closer relationships between the fraternity and the wives organization. The Sigma Su's also aid the fraternity in projects within the "house." The Su's meet in the living-room of the Fraternity House every second Wednesday.

The Sigma Su's were first organized some years ago but the organization dwindled out and was later re-activated in January 1954. The only elected officer is a secretary, elected each quarter, who keeps minutes, directs meetings and also collects and accounts for money.

SIGMA PHI DELTA

"A SIGMA PHI DELT IN EVERYTHING, AND EVERY SIGMA PHI DELT IN SOMETHING"

Above stands a motto, which all "Phi Delts" strive towards, remembering also that "Sigma Phi Delta is everything and every Sigma Phi Delt is something.

Presented here within this enshrined portion of this Modulus are some of the Brothers of Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Delta. Popularly known on campus as the "Engineering Fraternity," Kappa Chapter was founded on the Tri-State Campus May 25, 1947, when our founder, Professor LeRoy C. Horpedahl, a former "Phi Delt," saw need for an engineering fraternity at Tri-State. Professor Lyle D. Olleson became the first chief engineer and hence Kappa Chapter was formed. A visit to our castle will show proof that the Brothers have kept the motto's in mind at all times, and fully carried them out.

Sigma Phi Delta is one of the three official engineering fraternities of the Professional Inter-Fraternity Conference. The membership being international truly increased the Brotherhood of all engineers.
